BRYAN HIGH SCHOOL

IN RETROSPECT AND PROSPECT

A factory is known by its product, its output. This is true of institutions, as well as of factories. The public high school is among our newer institutions. It has had a spectacular growth. Ours is but one concrete illustration of all high schools. In 1903 there were ninety pupils in Bryan High. This number grew to three hundred, sixty-five in 1927, but decreased to three hundred, twenty-five for the current year.

During that time, there has been a very commendable spirit in this high school. Boys and girls, as well as teachers, have contributed their fine talents and energy to build up ideals of education that have given us an enviable record. Our athletic teams have a reputation for clean sportsmanship, and have won their share of games. In oratory, debate, and music we have earned many victories. Nor have we failed in scholarship tests.

All these are fine, but now Bryan High must set a new goal. Individuals have won games and contests, but a few individuals are not the measure of a school. Too many pupils have failed to measure up. If the high school would maintain, or raise, its present standard, all must contribute. A factory that puts out some good products, but also some inferior work, soon loses the confidence of the public. Bryan High needs to set a new standard of scholarship. In a final analysis, this, with high moral ideals, is the measure of its efficiency. From being a so-called luxury, the high school has become a necessity. This complex age demands better training. If this civilization would continue, it must "rest upon the marching feet of educated boys and girls." H. G. Wells is right when he says "It (civilization) has always been a race between education and catastrophe." Every age must not only earn it own living, but must also contribute its share to society in general. High school has little claim upon a community for support unless its students make some real contribution to the community life, either by enriching their lives, or by building a better community. High school possibly should help get a living, but more, it should "make the bread you eat sweeter to the taste."

May Bryan High continue to contribute its share in helping to make this old world a better place in which to live, and give a nudge to higher and better living in this community. It can be done if each student and teacher will do his part. I believe he will.

J. W. WYANDT
SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

THE FACULTY

Upon the school, in cooperation with the home and church, rests the responsibility of moulding character, of developing the youth of the land into upright, self-supporting, law-abiding citizens. To accomplish this result requires the utmost in tact, resource, sympathy, and understanding. It is the duty of the teacher to perceive the potentialities latent in each individual student, and to furnish the stimulus necessary to call them forth. Only thus can the school justify itself against the charge of mere standardized mass production. In a high school as small as ours in Bryan, the teacher has a greater opportunity for individual contact with all his students than has the instructor in a larger institution. Here he need not be a mere hearer of lessons, but a companion and friend, capable of advising and guiding students in personal problems.

Not all pupils, however, desire or appreciate this endeavor on the part of those in authority. It is the nature of youth to resent any form of discipline, and to gain intense delight in having been able to "put it over" on the teacher. But, in general, the students of Bryan High School have manifested a fine spirit of cooperation with the members of the faculty, both in the work of the classroom and in the extra-curricular activities which occupy so large a place in the educational system of today. The teachers are not unmindful of this attitude, and wish to take this opportunity to express appreciation of it.

Each year brings changes in the personel of any faculty, but there are two names that for several years have remained in the roster of Bryan High School teachers. Mr. Wyandt has served in the capacity of Superintendent of Schools for twenty-eight years. He has given the best years of his life to work in Bryan Public Schools. Most of the prestige which the schools have obtained is due to his faithful endeavor. For eleven years Mr. White has been a factor in the high school. He has presided over its affairs in a most efficient and satisfactory manner. Both teachers and students have enjoyed cooperating with these two men, and will miss them as they this year close their work in their respective fields.

Other teachers come and go, but the ideal back of all their work remains the same. All are anxious that through the united endeavor of students and faculty, Bryan High School may prove itself a constructive factor in this town and community.

THE SENIOR CLASS

OFFICERS

IRENE FRAKER.....President
INEZ HUMBARGER.....Vice-President
MARIE PHILLIPS.....Secretary and Treasurer

We, the class of 1931, have now come to the close of our career in the Bryan High School. As we look back over those four short years, we have many fond and pleasant memories, the majority of which occasion a smile and make us proud of the Class of 1931.

In our freshman year, William Gardner was our President, Nellie Herrell our Vice-President, and Lee Newcomer our Secretary and Treasurer. When we arrived at this great B. H. S. we pledged ourselves to be loyal, faithful, and true to our high school, and in this way to show our love for the purple and gold.

As we traveled on into our Sophomore year, we felt quite relieved, for we could no longer be chided that "green things grow." Our sophomore officers were: Clark Aumend, President; Denver Burns, Vice-President; and Miriam Hall, Secretary and Treasurer. That year we felt very proud of ourselves for our honor roll was longer than that of any other class.

Nine more months of travel brought us into our Junior year; our President that year being Lee Newcomer; Vice-President, Milo Rediger; and Secretary and Treasurer, Isabelle Peterson.

Now we find ourselves on our last trip through B. H. S. As Seniors, our class President is Irene Fraker; Vice-President, Inez Humbarger; and Secretary and Treasurer, Marie Phillips.

We are well represented in every branch of high school activity. Our musical ability is displayed in the High School Orchestra, Chorus and Glee Clubs; and many of our members have taken part in the musical programs which have been given. In intellectual activities we are prominent on account of our representation in interscholastic debates. Several of our members received their letters in foot ball and basket ball.

Since we have developed leaders in social, mental, physical, and spiritual lines, may we cast only honor upon the school which has trained us. May we show our appreciation of the invaluable service which the members of the faculty have rendered, and the interest which they have taken in us. May we always be true alumni of our dear old B. H. S.

With best wishes for the success of all future students the Senior class bids you, "Farewell."

TEN YEARS LATER

As I returned to Bryan to visit That Old Gang of Mine, Margaret Houck having married The Toy Town Admiral, Clark Aumend was giving a Baby's Birthday Party, for Sally and Little Joe. I told them that At Dawning I was leaving on a trip. I asked them to join me but they declined.

I left on the Sleepy Town Express and to my surprise Leroy Kyser was the conductor. I arrived All Alone in the big city of Chicago. As I entered a hotel, someone called, "Hello Beautiful!" I turned and there at the office desk was Kenny Leidigh. He informed me that Marie Phillips and Ralph Juilliard were married and were staying at the hotel. Marie was running a Modiste Shoppe and Ralph was living off her income. We all decided to go to Saint James Infirmary, a cabaret, of which Bob DeGroff was proprietor. We had just sat down to our table, when Lois Slagle, the Little Spanish Dancer, came dancing out leading a chorus of girls who were Doin' the Low Down. LaVerne Christman, Margaretta Arnold, and Kate Smith composed a part of the Chorus. Next thing on the program was the sister act, Marie and Dorothy Harbert who sang a medley of popular tunes, All Through the Night. The Cigarette Lady, we found to our amazement to be Marjorie Fish. The next act was the Sing Song Girl, Wanda Patten, who was accompanied by Denver Burns, the orchestra leader. Roger Ames was Just a Gigolo. We returned to our hotel at Three O'clock in the Morning. In the dining room that morning who should I run into but Bill Gardner and Jo Kitchen on their honeymoon. Bill was telling Jo, "You're the Cream in My Coffee."

After breakfast I went Around the Corner, to Marie's Modiste Shoppe and on my way I met The Peanut Vender, Howard Eager, who was Singing in the Rain. By the time The Song Is Ended, I was at the shop. I did not Remember of Marie's telling me who her models were, but I found them to be Irene Fraker, Betty Bowen, Troas Glenn, and Arvelle Weaver, whom I asked, Give Me Something to Remember You By.

In the afternoon I went to a theatre and saw Lois Bunting and Thelma Davis doing their famous "before and after taking act."

Round Evening I found my way back to the hotel. I picked up the daily paper and before my eyes was a picture of Kathryn Hayes who was the stenographer of a foreign ambassador.

I left Chicago at Eleven Thirty Saturday Night but Truly I had had a wonderful time. I arrived home thinking It was a Lonesome Old Town to come back to. I found out differently for I hadn't been in town over five minutes when I met Mary Louise Heign who was the county accountant. We went together to Essi's to dine. It was no longer run by H——— for Doll Koeppe had taken his place. There was also an orchestra which was composed of Lyle Brannon, Kay Zinsmaster, Lawrence Ridenour, and some others I did not know. As I Was Sitting on the Inside Looking on the Outside, I heard a voice and, turning, I was shocked to see that Hootie Kerr was the songster of the orchestra. While I was sitting there Clarence and Glenn Fitzenrider came in. I thought it strange, for in the old Schooldays they never were seen here. I was informed they had a hall back of Essi's where they taught tap dancing.

Mary Lou and I left Essi's and went to her office which was in the Court House. We bumped into Lee Newcomer who was Mayor. He asked me if I had heard that Ruby Shaffer and Everett Oliver were competitors, Ruby being the Editor of the Press, and Everett the Editor of the Democrat.

I left them there and proceeded to Ruby's Press Office. Of course she had all the news and what I didn't learn from her I learned later from Everett. I was not at all surprised to hear that Claude Shettel and Katie Gunn were married. Herbert Allison was running a Kroger's store and was brokenhearted because Marjorie was Out of His Dreams. Everett told me Irene McCord, Margaret Wonser, and Bernadine Comstock had gone Together into a Photographic Studio. As they were the only Photographers in town, the business was rushing.

Ruby asked me, "Would You Like to Take a Walk" over to the school house? All the fond Memories came back to me. However I was not to be too Heartbroken, for one of our star athletes, Stubby McKarns, was now coaching the B. H. S. Team. I entered the Superintendent's office and there sat Marjorie Slough who was secretary for Paul Tressler, the superintendent. They now were teaching art in the High School and Doris Kieffer was the art teacher. Zetta May, I found to be the town advisor for the "Girl Reserves." She informed me that Sadie Hire was ill in the new Bryan Hospital. I went to see her and on my way I came upon a miniature golf course and found Inez Humbarger and Olive Spangler running it in partnership. I arrived at the hospital and was told to go right on up to Sadie's room. I was greeted by Fern Clay who was a nurse. When I entered the room Sadie was eating and Margaret Wonser, her nurse, was Caring for Her. The food looked so delicious I asked who the dietician was. I found her to be Elizabeth Luxan. The doctor was to come in five minutes. The doctor turned out to be Toothpick Hughes. When he came in he was Whispering to Audrey Link, the dean of nurses. I left wishing Sadie all the luck possible.

Ding-a-ling-a-ling!!!! What is that? It is the alarm clock and I awake to find that I have only been dreaming. What a dream!! With this I think I will leave you, bidding you all Au Revoir————————

Little did we think, away back in 1920, of the many things that Old Father Time had in store for us during our school life. Of course, some have not been able to enjoy these things because they have either dropped by the wayside, moved to other places of residence, or in various other ways left us; but we still have the goodly number of about eighty-one in the Junior Class of 1931.

When we started to school some were enrolled at the new Lincoln building, the rest at the old Park, where many of their fathers and mothers had gone. Four years were spent separated, then the whole class was brought together, and new acquaintances were made, in the fifth and sixth grades, spent at the new building.

Then, oh! Weren't we grown up when we were again transferred to Park School, entering Junior High this time! Oh! What elation we felt at having four or five teachers, and at moving from room to room, instead of sitting in one room and one seat the entire day! Well we remember those winding, crooked, dark stairs; and, across the hall from the top of one of the flights, the office, the scene of many pleasant, and a few "delightful," conferences.

Then after two years of preparation, we finally entered the gates of our desire—good old Bryan High School. We, just like all those before us, had to go through the torture of being "green Freshies." I'm sure, though, that we were all amply repaid for this short time of discomfort by the many delightful times we had the rest of that year and the year following.

We entered our Junior year with the almost complete feeling of being "real" upperclassmen. We also came with the determination to hold our standards up to those we had set for ourselves in the years before and those set for us by the previous classes. We have tried to do our part in keeping Bryan High as good as it has always been, and in carrying out the motto of Hi-Life, "A More Glorious Future for Bryan Public Schools."

Again the doors must close, upon a very satisfactory and pleasant school year, and one never to be forgotten. We of the Sophomore Class of 1931, feel that we have done our duty by Bryan High School. We have striven to better our former records in studies, dramatics, and athletics. We have tried to set a good example, and to pave a clear way for those who will stand in our places next year. We are looking forward to even better times in our Junior and Senior years, and we hope we shall be as successful with our new duties as previous classes have been.

The Sophomore Class has been well represented in athletics this year. Three boys were able to make the grade for the foot ball team; five were accepted on the basket ball teams, and, a large percentage of the members of the track team were chosen from the Sophomore class. Two of our girls, also, played on the girls basket ball team. Some of these players have been subs and will be ready to try regular positions in another year or two. However, many of them are already regulars and will go right on playing better and more efficient ball next year.

At the end of each six weeks' period, the Honor Roll has been printed, each time bearing the names of many Sophomores. We have tried to hold our own in studies as well as in athletics.

We had three representatives in the Triangular Literary Contest this year, and we are expecting an even greater representation next year. This year we were taken into several new organizations: Girl Reserves, Hi-Y, and Dramatic Club. There are eleven Sophomores in the Dramatic Club; and about twenty girls and boys were taken into the Girl Reserves and Hi-Y.

We are not entirely satisfied with all of the work done during the past year, so we welcome with pleasure the new field of our Junior year. There we hope to make for ourselves an important place which will never be forgotten. —R. C. '33

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

OFFICERS

HOBART YOUNG.....President
DENNIS HARMAN.....Vice-President
NANCY ROE.....Secretary and Treasurer

Once again Bryan High has welcomed a new batch of "green freshmen." We were something for the teachers to puzzle over and the upper classmen to laugh at.

At first we didn't know exactly how to act: should we be quiet and unobtrusive, as we supposed freshmen were expected to be, or should we act like the upper classmen? One freshman solved the problem by saying, "When the teacher's out of the room, high school kids act like first graders." So we followed the example set forth by our elders.

Do you suppose those seniors (juniors and sophomores too) thought it was funny to wear one's dress wrong side out and backwards, and one tennis shoe and one high-heeled pump? And those certain seniors who, at the beginning of the year, took such a delight in seeing that the freshman boys got plenty of clear evening air and enough exercise about the same time of day, did they ever stop to think that they were getting the benefit of the invigorating air too?

From our experiences we emerged sadder and wiser, but Freshmen in the true sense of the word. We became an indespensible part of Bryan High. We hope that in our first year here we have been a credit to the dear old school.

The Glee Clubs, Chorus, Dramatic Society, Debate Club and Orchestra, realizing that they were getting stale and needing some "fresh" material to pep them up, opened their arms to us, and we flocked in.

We are sure that the Seniors envy us; we are just starting our great adventure. We have three years of high school before us, while they have only a glorious memory.

ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL

The 1930 Football season was, without doubt, the most brilliant a Bryan High School team has ever passed through. The club carried the purple and gold colors, without a defeat or tie, through a schedule of nine games to the championship of the Northwestern Ohio League, and was one of three undefeated teams in the State of Ohio. Coach Scales had four letter men from the preceding year; however, before the first conference game these had all been shifted to new positions. The team managed to win its preliminary games by playing alert football, but it did not begin to function properly until the fourth game of the season at Wauseon. In the second quarter of that game the Golden Bears began to syncronize and they were never stopped until the snow storm arrived Thanksgiving Day. The 1930 team perhaps reached the height of its success when it defeated our ancient rivals, Montpelier, 20-8 before a crowd of more than 2000 excited people.

With the most cleverly executed plays seen here in many years, Wonsetler, Hardy, and Miller, reversed the ends, tore through the tackles, and snagged passes, while Hathaway, the other member of the perfectly timed backfield, constantly cleared the way with his blocking. Before the reverses, double reverses, and spinners of the Bears, the opponents were bewildered. The kicking and passing of Miller was outstanding. In the line, Captain Stubby McKarns at center, Kerr at tackle, and Fix at guard, were always dependable.

Of the twelve fighting Bears to receive the major varsity letters, eight will return. The entire set of backs will be available next year. Letter men lost are Captain McKarns, center; Jim Wilhelm, guard; Art Kerr, tackle; and Karroll Zinsmaster, end. These men will be missed, but the fighting spirit of the boys who are left on the second string should overcome this difficulty. McKarns, Kerr, and Zinsmaster were all-conference men.

Much credit should be given the reserves who aided greatly and will make up future teams. Some of them were: Chuck Weaver, Murky Murray, Ralph Imes, Dodds Brown, Gotty Gottshall, Corny Beamer, Woody Kirby, Charlie Isaac, and Rollie Stuller. Pipps Reagle volunteered his services as trainer, and they were greatly appreciated. His rubdowns, taping, and bandaging were appreciated by everyone connected with the squad and the school. Thank you, Pipps. —R. S.

THE LETTER MEN

Twelve men received the full fledged honorary awards. They were:

CAPTAIN RUSSELL MCKARNS "Stubby"

Center—Senior

Captain McKarns was moved from a halfback position to center this year and played a nice consistent game at the pivot position. His work in covering forward passes was effective and his line play especially good. He did much to hold Montpelier on our own three yard line.

JOHN MILLER "Johnny"

Fullback—Junior

John was shifted from end to fullback on offense, and end on defense. His kicking and passing were probably the best seen in scholastic circles in years. The type of offense used by the Bears placed the brunt of the scoring attack upon John, and he lined up to the responsibility placed upon him. He carried the ball across conference opponents' goal lines for 53 points—three of these were scored on a field goal against Napoleon. His kicking gave Bryan the extra point most of the time.

JAMES WILHELM "Jim"

Guard—Senior

The guards played an important part in the Bear offense and Jim was always out in the interference. He and Fix made a nice pair of guards.

HENRY WONSETLER "Hank"

Half—Junior

Hank was the surest open field tackler on the squad, and as such, played the part of safety more frequently. Altho he was the lightest man on the squad he consistently was a good ball carrier on off tackle slants and end runs. With added weight we are expecting him to do much next year.

WILSON HARDY "Hardy"

Half—Sophomore

Hardy tackled hard and clean and carried the ball with determination, speed, drive, and courage. His never failing fight advanced the ball many yards after an opposing tackler had him within his grasp. He can kick and pass well. Need we mention the memorable run of 48 yards for the touchdown against Montpelier? With experience and more weight he should mean much to future Bear teams.

WILLIAM FIX "Bill"

Guard—Junior

Bill played his first year at foot ball and made a well-blocking, hard-charging guard. He should be a "bear" next year.

ARTHUR KERR "Art"

Tackle—Senior

Art played a good consistent game and his 165 pounds will be missed next year. His best game of the year possibly was at Napoleon on Thanksgiving Day.

JOHN CREEK "Big Boy"

Tackle—Sophomore

Creek's 227 pounds of beef helped him much, and he managed to earn a varsity letter in his sophomore year. He shared a tackle position with Daniels. He should develop into a real tackle.

CHARLES DANIELS "Red"

Tackle—Junior

Daniels, altho light, was fast and aggressive. He was especially good at charging through on defense. With a little improvement in his tackling he will be a good man next year.

RUSSELL ALLISON "Rusty"

End—Junior

Playing offensive end and defensive full, Rusty could always be found in the thick of the fight. What he lacked in height he made up for in pure unadulterated fight. With just a little work on timing his defensive charges, Rusty will wreck more plays next year than he did this. His snagging a pass for our only touchdown saved the day in the Stryker game.

KARROLL ZINSMASTER "Kay"

End—Senior

Kay played exceptionally good ball for his height and weight. After the third game of the year he held an end position. He climaxed his football career by snatching a Montpelier pass and racing 33 yards for a touchdown. We shall miss him.

RICHARD HATHAWAY "Dick"

Quarter—Junior

Dick played a consistent game of football at quarter. Altho he did not call signals regularly he was a vital part of the Bear machine. He was a blocking back and carried the ball little; but many opponents have felt his accurate block as he cleared the way for a reverse or a spinner with Miller carrying the ball over for six points. His work in breaking up Liberty Center's passes will not soon be forgotten. His kicking and passing are good.

The following were given honorary major awards:

PAUL TRESSLER "Tres"

End—Senior

Tressler battled in hard luck. With the prospect of making the best end in the league, Tressler suffered a knee injury in the second game of the season, and in spite of dogged determination could not come back. We missed him.

HERBERT ALLISON "Herb"

Center—Senior

Allison was Tressler's running mate for injury honors. His came in the first game. He helped the squad much by attending practice consistently altho he well knew he could not play again during the season.

LEE NEWCOMER "Lee"

Tackle—Senior

Newcomer was a substitute tackle for three seasons, scarcely missing a practice. He gave an exceptionally good account of himself in those games in which he participated.

WILLIAM GARDNER "Bill"

Guard—Senior

At mid-season Bill suffered an infection which ruined the year for him. His sticking it out for three whole seasons when things didn't look so bright is commendable.

The following men were awarded minor honorary letters. The Athletic Association felt that the following men deserved some credit for their work altho they did not accomplish enough to merit a major award:

HAROLD KOEPPE "Doll"

Tackle—Senior

Doll did not get to play much this year, but gave a very good account of himself when in the ball game. His size helped him much.

ROGER AMES "Buck Ely"

End—Senior

This was Ames' first season on the gridiron. He probably would have gained a regular berth on the championship club had he been out before. He covered himself with glory with two sensational catches in the Hicksville game, one of which he ran several yards to score.

REX FISHER "Mista Fisha"

End—Junior

Fisher came all the way from sunny Florida to aid the Bears in their championship drive. He played an end position and Coach Scales will tell you that he always turned the play into the tackle. We regret that he will not be eligible next year.

PAUL MCKARNS "Chink"

Half—Junior

Chink looked mighty good in the Liberty Center game when he made several good gains off tackle. He can carry the ball cleverly. He will be back next year.

NEWELL KEEFER "Keefer"

Manager—Sophomore

Keefer was our "keeper of the gear" and many times has had to chase to the gym for a pair of crutches or what not.

FOOTBALL GAMES

Sept. 26—Bryan 9; Alumni 0 Here

Bryan opened the season with a victory over the Alumni. Although outgained in yardage the high school had the large end of the score, Tressler's play being a feature of the game.

Oct. 3—Bryan 25; Hicksville 14 Here

Bryan was again outgained but won by the score of 25 to 14. Runs by Hardy, and the blocking and punting of Miller featured.

Oct. 10—Bryan 7; Stryker 0 There

Bryan expected to beat Stryker by a large score, but had to be content with a 7 to 0 victory. The punting of Miller was again the feature of the game.

Oct. 17—Bryan 14; Wauseon 8 There

The first league game was won from Wauseon by the score of 14 and 8. Miller scored two touchdowns which were disputed by the fans.

Oct. 23—Bryan 26; Delta 0 There

Bryan won its second league game with little difficulty. Wonsetler played a good game at half-back. Miller's punting and passing were also good.

Oct. 31—Bryan 22; Liberty Center 6 Here

This was Bryan's third league victory. Kerr, at tackle, played a good defensive game. Capt. McKarns played well.

Nov. 7—Bryan 26; Defiance 7 Here

Bryan got revenge this year by defeating Defiance by the score of 26 and 7. Although outscored in the first quarter, the boys came back strong to win the game.

Nov. 14—Bryan 20; Montpelier 8 There

In the first three minutes of play Montpelier scored 8 points. Then Bryan started to function. The runs of Hardy and the work of Zinsmaster featured the game. The line displayed real fighting spirit in keeping 'Pelier from crossing their goal line more than once.

Nov. 27—Bryan 9; Napoleon 0 There

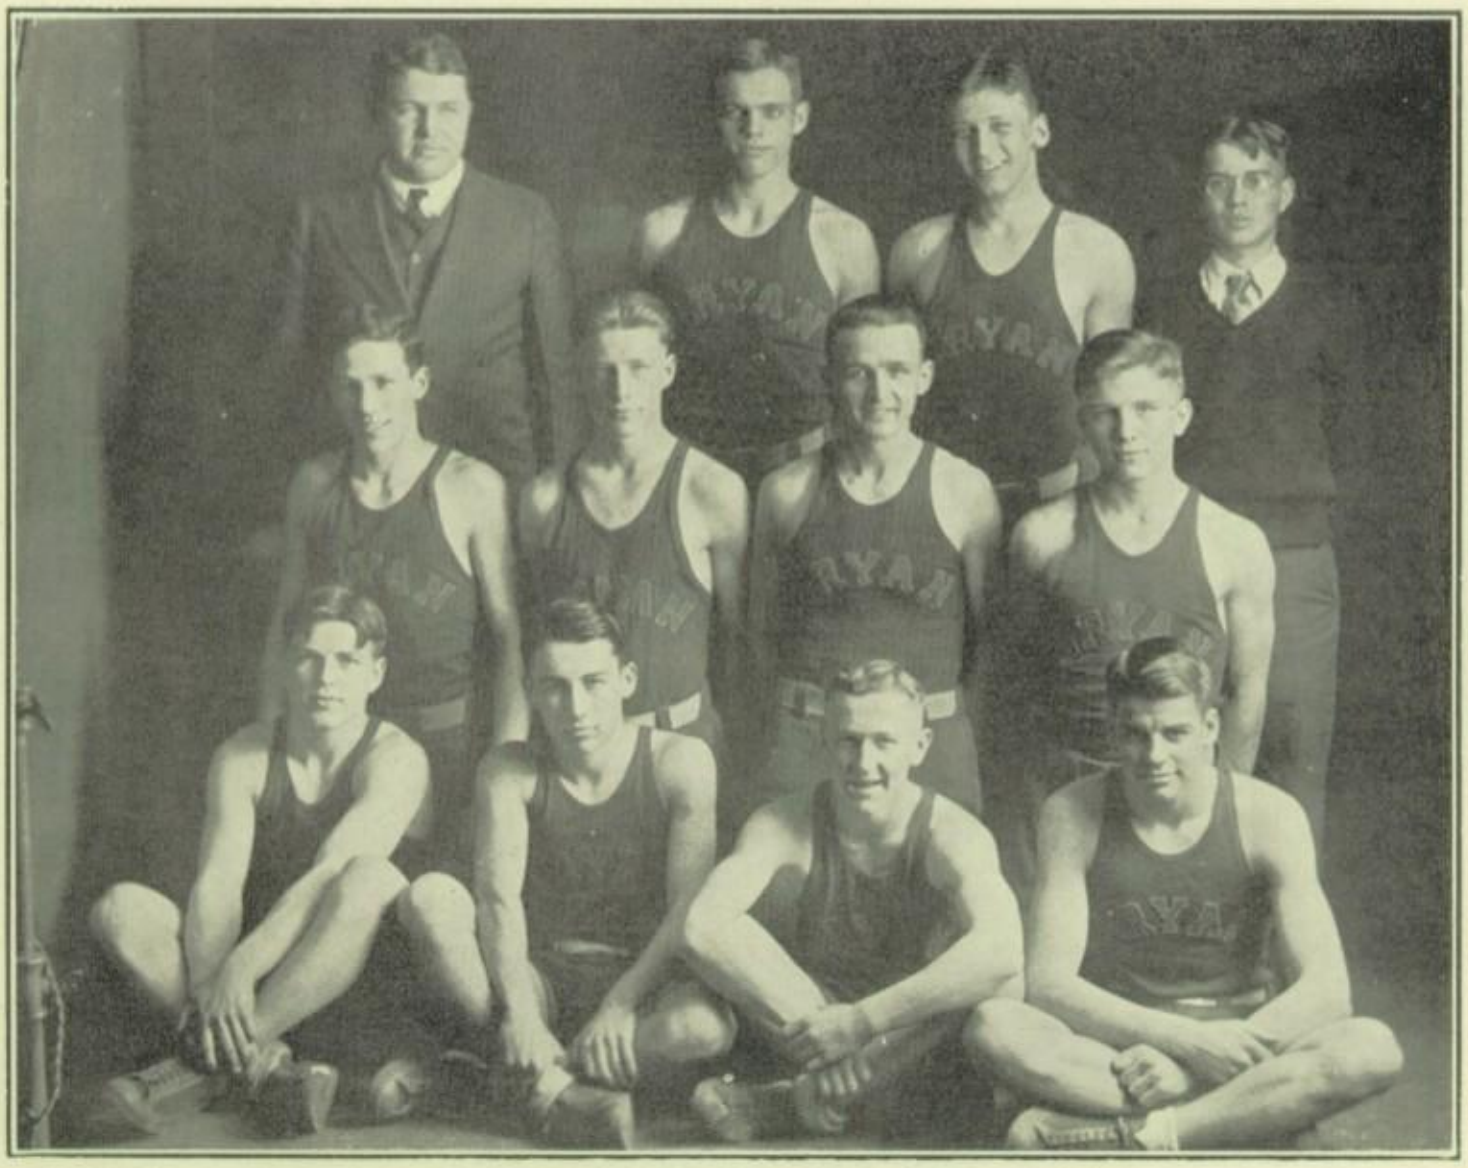
Playing on a snow covered field, Bryan won its ninth straight victory, making a perfect season. The punting of Miller and the alertness of Fix featured. This was the last game for Wilhelm, Capt. McKarns, Zinsmaster, Kerr, Koeppe, Tressler, H. Allison, Newcomer and Ames.



Row III—Scales, McKarns, Ames, Wilhelm.
Row II—Miller, Hughes, Julliard, Fix.
Row I—Allison, Wonsetler, Slough, Hardy.

At Defiance Tournament

Total: Bryan 512—Opponents 404

The Bryan Bears had another good season in basketball. Captained by McKarns and Miller, the Bears finished in a tie for the championship of the Northwestern Ohio League. Montpelier gave Bryan its only League defeat. The Bears finished the season by winning 14 out of 19 games. They suffered a stroke of bad luck when Miller and Ames took the flu the week of the sectional tourney at Defiance. However they battled hard; but our ancient Montpelier rivals nosed us out in our overtime game 25-23. The Bears have lost only two games out of twenty in the Northwestern league in the last two years, and this is the first time within the last five years that they have not been in the regional tournament at Findlay.

McKARNS—Co-CAPTAIN—Guard—Stubby played his senior year at his old guard position, and did a good job of it. He was our captain in the majority of the games. His defensive work was good and he finished the season by being chosen on the all-league team.

AMES—Guard—Buck played a hard consistent game and this year turned out to be one of the best guards the Bears have ever had. He was unanimous choice for a berth on the all-league team.

JULLIARD—Center—Ralph played especially good basketball at center and near the end of the season developed into the outstanding center of the league. His work under the basket was especially good. He reached the height of his success in our first game of the tournament with a bang-up game against Montpelier. He was chosen all-tournament center.

MILLER—Co-CAPTAIN—Forward—Johnny was the high gear of our club and the leading forward in the league. He was never stopped in any game. He was unanimous choice for a forward berth on the all-league team.

HUGHES—Forward—Hughes scored many points for the Bears and was an accurate shot from the side of the court. His foul shooting was outstanding. We shall miss him.

HARDY—Forward—Hardy played quite a lot this season and came thru in good shape. He handles the ball well. We are counting on him strong next year.

ALLISON—Forward—Rusty played quite a bit and his indomitable fight and determination helped the Bears a lot. He should be a mainstay next year.

FIX—Guard—Bill showed much promise near the end of the season. His outstanding merits were coolness under fire and deliberate play. His influence on the squad was good. We're looking forward to you next year, Bill.

WONSETLER—Guard—Hank did not get to play much this season but showed lots of stuff when he was in there. Next year he will come thru.

SLOUGH—Forward—Whitey came to the Varsity late but gave a good account of himself. His side line shot is accurate. He will help next year.

WILHELM—Manager—Paul did a splendid job of assisting with the team this year, and we hope he will want to do so again next year.

The Bryan High School Reserves had a very successful season, winning the Reserve championship of the N. W. O. League. The Reserves lost only one league and four non-league games. Mr. Everett deserves much credit for the fine showing of the Reserves, for he spent much time and work developing a good defensive and fast offensive team. The boys worked hard and cooperated with Coach Everett in splendid shape. Many of the Reserve games were close contests which made them very exciting to witness. Six of the games were won or lost by only two points difference in score. The Reserves should furnish some very fine material for the Varsity team next year.

HARMON—Forward—Denny had a tough time getting started, but came through in the latter part of the season in fine shape.

DeGROFF—Forward—Maurey was small, but fast. He played hard with the determination to win.

ISAAC—Forward—Charlie was not out the first part of the season, but his ability and fight soon won for him a position on the team.

BOWEN—Forward—Although Kenny was hindered by loss of practice, he showed great possibilities. He should be a big help to the team next year.

HEALD—Center—Denny was only a Freshman this year, but he showed the qualities of a basketball player. There are positions on the Varsity to be filled next year, Denny; keep it up.

CREEK—Center—John is big and strong. He helped the team in the latter part of the season to a great extent. There is a place on the Varsity for big men. Come on, Johnny, keep going.

KENSINGER—Center—Ned is large but inexperienced. He will be of value to the team next year.

BROWN—Guard—Dodds was a good steady man, a good shot and a clear thinker. He has great possibilities.

BEAMER—Guard—Cornie was inexperienced, but developed rapidly. He will be a big help to the team next year.

HATHAWAY—Guard—Dick was one of the mainstays on the team. His ability to get the ball off the backboard made him a valuable man to have around.

KERR—Guard—Kenny was new and inexperienced. He has a chance to come through next year.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

GIRLS' BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

December 12, 1930	Kunkle at Bryan
December 23, 1930	Stryker at Stryker
January 2,1931	Montpelier at Bryan
January 16, 1931	Liberty Center at Liberty Center
January 29, 1931	West Unity at Bryan
February 6, 1931	Montpelier at Montpelier
February 14, 1931	Pioneer at Bryan
February 20, 1931	Liberty Center at Bryan
February 21, 1931	Stryker at Bryan
February 27, 1931	Alvordton at Bryan

Because of so many new and inexperienced players, the girls' Varsity was not so successful this year. However, the girls were more successful than the scores indicate, as several games were lost by a very narrow margin. Only two members will be lost by graduation, so a much better team is expected next season.

MIRIAM HALL—Forward—Miriam, one of the senior members of the team, will be missed next year. "Snooky" could usually be depended on to add points to our score by her free throws.

NAOMI BEAMER—Forward—Beamer was moved from guard to forward position the latter part of the season. She plays a good game in both fields.

VERA BRUBAKER—Center—Vera showed considerable improvement in her playing from the beginning of this season. Much is expected of her next year.

LOIS SLAGLE—Running Center—Lois, Vera's running mate, is another member who will be lost by graduation. This was "Shrimp's" first experience on the Bryan girls' varsity; her speed was an asset to the team.

REBECCA ZIMMERMAN—Guard—Becky played guard position and played it well. Becky will be with the team again next year.

HELEN HALL—Guard—Helen was changed from forward field to guard. She also plays a good game in either position.

Much credit should be given the substitutes, Marie Philips, Billie Knapp, Marvel Fast, Verna Leinard, Donna Winegardner, and Marguerite McKarns, for their willingness to cooperate and take the place of any member of the varsity when they were needed. All of these girls, but Marie, will be back next year and should be good material for the team.

TRACK—1930

Bryan's 1930 track team gave evidence of good results brought about by the new cinder track. This was the third year that the school had had a track upon which to work, and an increased interest and a good track team resulted. The team gathered three beautiful trophies and came within a fraction of a point of winning two others. The boys who placed in all meets except the State meet at Columbus were: James Lowe, in the shot; Herbert Ames, in the discus; Clark Aumend, in the broad jump; Paul Tressler, in the high jump, Wilson Hardy and Russell Allison, in the pole vault; Richard Hathaway, in the high hurdles; Henry Wonsetler, in the low hurdles; Howard Eager, in the 880; Bennie "Sugar" Cain and Ted Lockhart, in the mile. Bryan's sprint relay team, consisting of Floyd Wilson, Carmen Whitney, Henry Wonsetler, and Herbert Ames, garnered many points; while the mile relay team, consisting of Whitney, Wilson, John Miller, and Lockhart won the N. O. H. S. A. L. Meet Relay.

THE SEASON

BRYAN VS. WAITE, AT TOLEDO—Of course Bryan was out of its class, but the team showed promise and the meet did much to help determine entrants in meets to follow. Score: Waite 78, Bryan 46.

INTERCLASS MEET—The sophomores swamped the other classes, piling up 62 points to capture the intra-mural trophy.

DEFIANCE COLLEGE RELAY MEET AT DEFIANCE—Bryan scored in seven events to take the runner-up trophy in the annual relay meet. The team's being evenly balanced enabled the Bears to score 17 3-5 points St. Augustine of Kalamazoo, Michigan won the meet with 27 points. Twenty-four schools competed.

NORTHWESTERN OHIO LEAGUE MEET, AT BRYAN—The Bears hit their stride in this meet. Scoring in all events but two, the team swept before it the opposition of the other five schools to several new records and a championship. Lockhart and Cain finished 1-2 in the mile in record breaking time. Ames set a new record in the discus. Hardy tied for first in the pole vault. Eager took the 880 in fast time. Hathaway and Tressler placed high in the high hurdles, while Wonsetler took second in the lows. Aumend came through to win the broad jump. The mile relay team won easily, while our sprint relay team was forced into second place after a thrilling battle with Napoleon. Final scores: Bryan 66¼, Napoleon 51¼, Montpelier 43¼, Delta 23½, Liberty Center 19¼, Wauseon 12.

DISTRICT MEET, AT TOLEDO—The Bears suffered two bad breaks which cost them this meet; first, Eager was not permitted to run on account of an attack of appendicitis; second, the sprint relay team was fouled and caused to take second place instead of first. The team which committed the foul was disqualified, but this did not help Bryan's points. The result was that Port Clinton nosed out the Bears by a single point. The brightest spots in the meet, possibly, were the winning of the shot by Lowe, Wonsetler's winning the low hurdles and the work of Hathaway and Tressler in the high hurdles. Although they did not place, Lockhart and Cain ran the mile in 4:54 and 4:56, respectively, very good time.

STATE MEET, AT COLUMBUS—The Bryan team made a fair showing at Columbus in the State meet, Wonsetler taking fourth in the low hurdles, Lowe sixth in the shot, and both relay teams finishing sixth. —R. S.

In this issue of the Zeta-Cordia the Senior Staff has striven to accurately review the incidents which have occurred during the past school year. Our chief aim, however, has been to portray these events so as to show their part in the progression of our school history. Therefore we chose as our theme for this book, the Progress of Travel.

Modern travel connects us with the most distant people and places. It has made our lives broader and more interesting. The participation in school activities should bring the same results. It is next to impossible for a student to take part in the various phases of school life without broadening his horizon. He will perceive this more as the years go by. Thus we hope to make this book a bond between the student's school life and the remainder of his life.

The Senior Staff wishes to thank our faculty advisor for her earnest supervision and hard work. We also wish to express our appreciation to the Junior Staff, which has certainly done its share of the work; and to the students and faculty for their cooperation. Our last wish is that you may like this Zeta-Cordia of 1931.

Before each of us is some objective which is paramount. To one, it is his life's work; to another, merely the pursuit of happiness; to others, matrimony seems supreme. Along with the thoughts of future work and play there comes to the minds of the members of the Junior Staff the realization that in their hands lies the fate of the annual of thirty-two.

When we begin work on that annual, we shall have experience and ideas gained from cooperation with the Senior Staff of this year. They have given us the opportunity of learning the preparation of an annual; and in return, we have tried to help them in every way possible, even to the extent of running stands at games.

To create an even better annual than any before published, is our aim. To furnish the money for that annual is the business manager's task. To put in that annual records of new heights reached by Bryan High scholars and athletes, is our desire and the school's responsibility. So we all have our objectives to reach. We must press on to the finish to attain those goals. The Junior Staff is resolved to reach its objective with colors flying. And until the Zeta-Cordia of 1932 is out, we say, "Just wait!"

Hi-Life has endeavored to give a true picture of school life. The staff has labored unceasingly to make the paper interesting and amusing, as well as of some educational value. All athletic contests and social affairs have been covered diligently and fully. The staff, wishing to honor the members of the foot ball squad, dedicated one issue of the paper to them. The paper has also served to introduce the new teachers and students. In addition to numerous other things, Hi-Life sponsored a popularity contest which was quite interesting to the students and faculty alike. Editorials, essays, and poems, written by members of the high school have proved of general interest. Once the staff stepped from the beaten track and treated the school to a "nut" issue, full of humor and "white lies." Junior High School has cooperated well this year and we hope will continue to do so in the future.

Without the able help and advise of Mr. Haugher, the paper could not have been the success it has been. We cannot thank him too much for all he has done. The student body also deserves a great deal of credit for its cooperation, without which the paper could not have been a success financially. The staff of '31 passes Hi-Life on to the Class of '32, wishing it the utmost success. —R. S. '31

Upon entering this organization each girl probably has her own idea of the meaning of the Girl Reserve movement; but every member soon comes to the same conclusion that "it is something that helps a girl grow to be." It affords the opportunity for the development of personality and character through an interest in worth-while things. It also gives us a desire to be of service, and eagerness to make our contribution to the world of which we find ourselves a part.

The theme of this year's program has been The Open Road. Every meeting has been a success because the cooperation of each girl has helped to make it so. The meeting which always seems to make the greatest impression upon us is the initiation of our new members. At this meeting we use a candle ceremonial service.

Last summer Mary Louise Heign and Zetta May Peters represented Bryan Girl Reserves at Camp Namroun near Hillsdale. A number of girls also attended the Girl Reserve conference held at Napoleon. We always receive a great amount of benefit from these conferences. They give us an opportunity to see what other organizations are doing and help us to follow the purpose of our club "To find and give the best."

The Hi-Y of our local high school is one of many clubs of its kind now existing throughout the United States. These clubs are organized and sponsored by the Y. M. C. A.'s of the various states.

It is the purpose of every Hi-Y club to promote and maintain, throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character. The basic rules of the club are four in number, commonly known as the "Four C's." These four C's stand for clean living, clean sportsmanship, clean scholarship, and clean speech.

The Hi-Y meets regularly on Wednesday nights throughout the school year. The programs in these meetings vary in accordance with the requirements peculiar to the club. Speakers are obtained, discussions, and regular business and social meetings are held. The election of officers for the coming year is held near the close of the year. New members, however, are voted into the club twice a year, once each semester.

Bryan Hi-Y is connected with a larger organization in Northwestern Ohio, known as the Maumee Valley Conference. This conference consists of the various Hi-Y clubs throughout the northwestern district. Assemblies of this organization are held twice each year. The first this year was held at Liberty Center, and the second in Bryan on March third, when more than one hundred boys were royally entertained at a banquet, preceding the assembly program.

On the whole, the club has had a successful year, and has upheld its standards to the best of its ability.

MR. A. R. WHITE.....Faculty Advisor

This year the Student Council has had a membership of fourteen, apportioned among the classes as follows: five seniors, Lee Newcomer, Irene Fraker, Clark Aumend, Mary Louise Heign, and Kenneth Leidigh; four juniors, Herbert Benner, Helen Mick, Richard Hathaway, and Henry Wonsetler; three sophomores, Rosemary Clark, Margaret Culbertson, and Junior Shurlow; two freshmen, Dorothy Beamer, and Gertrude McKarns. In addition to these, and to Mr. White, our faculty advisor, Zetta May Peters, president of the Girl Reserves, was invited to attend our meetings. With this addition, our membership included officers of all the organizations in Bryan High.

The purpose of the Student Council, as stated in our constitution, is to "cooperate with the faculty in solving the problems of the High School." Our organization provides a link between the faculty and the student body. By means of the Council the faculty learns the viewpoint of the students on school problems and on questions that arise during the year. The club also takes charge of the class elections in the fall, apportions to the various organizations the sale of candy at athletic contests, and helps to plan the assembly programs. By doing these things the Student Council takes some of the work off the faculty's shoulders and at the same time provides an element of student self-government. This year the Student Council sponsored the New Years' Dance, and bought sweaters for the cheerleaders.

The Senior members of '31 wish the Student Council success next year, and hope that the organization will grow in usefulness. —L. N. '31

The Mask and Sandal Dramatic Club has had an unusually successful year. At the beginning of the year officers elected and tryouts were held for new members. Most of the large number who tried out showed themselves capable of admittance to the club. Meetings were held on alternate Tuesday evenings, members contributing to the program and discussing different subjects. These subjects were chosen at the beginning of the year by the program committee. This committee also chose individual chairmen for each program.

The Dramatic Club does not cater to geniuses but to hard-working students who benefit by the friendly criticism of their fellow workers and that of the faculty advisor, Mr. Haugher. The play instinct has ever been an educational force and is being emphasized more and more each year. It appeals to the eye and the ear, thereby doubling the opportunity for reception of ideas. The play represents a cross section of real life and thus vitalizes the learning process.

The club gave two programs before the student body; one before Thanksgiving and one before Christmas. The Thanksgiving program consisted of a short play, recitations, and piano and vocal solos. The Christmas program was of much the same order. This was also presented in the evening for the aid of the Women's Federation.

On April 17, the Mask and Sandal presented a sparkling three-act comedy, Skinner's Dress Suit, to a large and very appreciative audience. The proceeds were given to the P. T. A. to pay the deficit incurred by the Lecture Course.

The Triangular Contest of 1930-31 was an interesting affair, to say the least. With mostly green material, Bryan looked to be out of the running. But green material is sometimes better than poor or mediocre experienced material. The new students who took places in the Triangular Contest this year were certainly good material. With eight of the fourteen contestants who took part this year, returning next year, Bryan's victory in 1932 should be on a wider margin than that which gave her the decision this year.

The Contest was exceptionally close. According to the judges, the contestants were so nearly alike that it was just the very little things which decided the winners. Conversating with others of Bryan, Wauseon, and Napoleon has been to the effect that the contest this year was, as a whole, better by far than any in years past.

Those who spent most of their leisure hours in practicing for the contest deserve to be honored as much as the students engaged in other extra-curricular activities. Participation in such a contest is not like participation in an athletic game; if you lose the first time, you cannot pick out your weak points and try again. You have just one chance to make good in the supreme test. Bryan High School is indeed proud of its students who participated in the Triangular Contest of 1930-31

THE DEBATE CLUB

OFFICERS

ROSEMARY SCHATZER.....Secretary
MR. S. A. WAGNER.....Faculty Advisor

The annual call for all persons wishing to try their ability in public speaking and debating was given early in the school year. The first few weeks were spent in learning the fundamentals of debating. After we had acquired this knowledge, several members of the club gave a humorous debate on, Resolved: That human beings should walk on all fours." Another practice debate was given a few weeks later on the question, Resolved: That morons make the best citizens.

The goal of all debaters is to become members of the debating team that represents our school in the Triangular Literary Contest. The topic for the contest debate this year was, "Resolved: That national advertising, as now carried on, is both socially and economically harmful." Before the try-outs for the contest were held, the debate club discussed the merits and demerits of national advertising. Several meetings were devoted to lively and open discussion of this topic. In the contest, the affirmative was debated by Helen Mick and Kenneth Leidigh, with Kathryn Gunn as alternate. The negative was taken by Margaret Culbertson and Jane Gebhard, with Lee Newcomer as alternate.

In attaining the qualities desirable in public speaking, such as poise and forcefulness in address, and in overcoming stage fright, the club has been greatly aided by its faculty advisor, Mr. Wagner. All of the members have enjoyed and profited from the work of the club, and plan for another year of interesting work in this organization.

Wanda Patten.....Treasurer

The Girls' Glee Club this year consisted of forty-five members. It met every Monday morning at eight-fifteen in room six. An exceptionally successful year was experienced under the supervision of its able directress. The girls did their best to co-operate with her and their patient pianist. This superb team work, accompanied by hard work, accounts, no doubt, for their successes.

The Glee Club made its first public appearance at the contest of the Williams County Fair in the early fall. The girls were happy to bring home honors and prizes. During the holiday season they sang carols one afternoon from the balcony of Hawk's clothing store. They sang carols again along with some other numbers, at the Christmas Vesper Service held at the English Lutheran church, the Sunday before Christmas. The girls were asked to take part in the program for the Athletic Banquet the first of January. They also entertained at the Farmers' Institute with a few selections.

Five girls from the club were chosen to take part in the vocal presentations of the annual Triangular Contest, the last of February. Jo Elizabeth Kitchen and Wauneta Scott sang the duet at Napoleon; Betty Bowen and Rosalie Christy, the duet here; and Wanda Patten, the vocal solo here. All the girls did splendid work.

The club broadcasted from Fort Wayne, Indiana, the twenty-fifth of April. It had had half an hour on the air last spring and was requested to return again this year.

The girls took part in the Spring Concert in May, and then ended another eventful year when they made their last appearance at the Commencement exercises the last week in May.

The High School Boys' Glee Club progressed very rapidly this year under the supervision of Miss McKinney. It met every Tuesday morning at eight-fifteen, and devoted a period to hard, but enjoyable work. Many new boys entered the club this year, and their faithful endeavor has brought real accomplishment. Miss McKinney feels that most of the new members have more cultivated voices now, than they had at the beginning of the year. Prospects for good voices available in the future are bright, especially in the case of members coming from the lower classes.

The club sang over radio station WOWO, at Fort Wayne, on March twenty-eighth. A few selections were given by the whole club; Robert McDonald sang a solo; and a trio, composed of Terrance Musser, Jay Shockley, and Denver Burns, furnished several numbers. The club's contribution to the Triangular Contest was Robert McDonald, soloist, who won from the Napoleon contestant at Napoleon. In May the Boys' Glee Club joined with the Girls' Glee Club and Chorus in presenting the annual spring concert.

The boys give all the credit to Miss McKinney. It was only through her patience and hard work that so much was accomplished. —J. H. S. '33

The Bryan High School Orchestra this year consisted of fourteen instruments: one saxophone, three cornets, four violins, one flute, two slide trombones, one cello, a bass, and a piano. We met at eight-fifteen each Friday morning in room six. After everyone had his instrument tuned, we usually began our practice with a March, or other piece in fast tempo. After we had played one or two livelier pieces we always got down to business and practiced some of the more difficult numbers. We usually ended our Friday's practice with a more familiar piece.

Last fall, at the county fair, two of our orchestra members entered the instrumental division of the Music Contest. Denver Burns represented Bryan High in the brass instrument section, with a cornet solo; and Marvel Fast, in the string instrument contest with a violin solo.

In the spring, the orchestra, together with the other musical organizations of the high school, presented a concert in the Auditorium.

As we all liked our directress, Miss McKinney, we worked hard and tried to cooperate with her. As a result, the orchestra enjoyed a successful year, and the individual members received valuable training and experience. —M. O. '32

CHORUS

Miss Louise McKinney.....Directress
Rosemary Clark.....Pianist

In the hustle and bustle of today, few of us stop long enough to hear, and to learn to appreciate, good music. Our busy days are crowded with our work; our evenings are our time for recreation. Then we attend the theater or listen to the radio. But do we hear good music at the theater or listen to the best music over the radio? Much of it is the jazz of the modern age. And gone are the days when groups of young people got together to sing songs. The art and pleasure of informal group-singing has been lost. All the singing now is done by professionals.

The Chorus endeavors to meet the needs arising from these conditions in modern life. It sings selections from operas and operettas and the lighter of the classical songs. The pupils in the Chorus learn to sing and to appreciate good songs. We become more acquainted with the best music and composers and unconsciously compare the music with the modern popular songs. We learn to cooperate with our voices and to sing together. We are helping to renew the pleasurable lost custom of group-singing.

After try-outs at the beginning of the year, about one hundred pupils were selected for the Chorus. The Chorus is composed of the members of Boys' Glee Club, the Girls' Glee Club, and other singers. Miss McKinney is the directress; Rosemary Clark, the pianist.

With some new pieces, and a few old ones, we began our singing. We have improved until we are able to sing the songs well. Some of our pieces are: A Dream Boat Passes By, Romeo in Georgia, Sylvia, Sympathy, Italian Street Song, and Venetian Love Song.

OFFICERS

KATHRYN HAYES.....President

MISS CATHERINE GOELLER.....Faculty Advisor

The Twin Arts Club has had a very successful year. The club was formed last year with the assistance of Miss Goeller, who has also guided us through this year. The name Twin Arts was chosen because it includes the two subjects—shorthand and typing. These two subjects are called the twin subjects, as you do not think of one without thinking of the other.

All those taking shorthand and typing are eligible for membership if their grades are up to a set standard. At our second meeting this year members of the Junior class were taken into the club. About ten qualified for membership.

The purpose of our club is to help us acquire more speed and accuracy in the twin subjects and to familiarize us with the ways in which they are applied to office work. It also helps to arouse interest and develop a closer co-operation among the girls.

Meetings have been held on alternate Monday nights. The programs consisted of readings, office skits, contests, and talks on office etiquette. During the year we have had outside people come in and discuss with us some of the problems that we shall have to deal with in our future work. We devoted several of our meetings to contests sponsored by the Gregg Writer, a well-known shorthand magazine, and several members received awards for their perfect shorthand notes. Not all of our meetings have been devoted to business. We have had several social meetings and all are looking forward with keen interest to the banquet that is to be held some time in April.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

OFFICERS

EDITH ADAMSON.....President
VIRGINIA CAMERON.....Secretary and Treasurer
MISS MARY NOFZINGER.....Faculty Advisor

Last October twenty-fifth, the Home Economics I and II girls reorganized the club begun in 1929. We decided to retain the former name of Willing Workers, and the old colors, blue and white; and to hold our meetings, as before, on alternate Tuesday evenings. At this first meeting, we also made out a program for the year, in which the date and nature of each meeting was definitely stated.

In addition to our regular, semi-monthly meetings, we have had several parties. On February tenth we had a sewing party, at which we measured new curtains, drapes, bed covers, and stand covers, for the girls' dressing room. On March twenty-fourth we held a combined old-fashioned and kid party in the gymnasium. Several of the girls who did not know how to dance took advantage of this opportunity to learn.

Under the supervision of Miss Nofzinger, our teacher and advisor, the Home Economics girls put on an assembly program, on the morning of March eighteenth. The feature of this program was a short play, The Bride and Groom, with Iola Gray taking the part of the bride, Helen Lirot that of the groom, and LeNore Hoffman impersonating the grocer. In addition to this brief skit, the program consisted of a reading by Wilma Kauzmaul; a song by the Home Ec trio, composed of Ruby Robinette, Frances Ames, and Mina Kernen, accompanied by Virginia Cameron; and several choruses by the whole club.

All the girls find enjoyment in the activities of the club, and feel that it is accomplishing its avowed purpose of creating and stimulating interest in Home Economics work.

OFFICERS

MIRIAM SNOW.....Consul

MARJORIE GLEASON.....Scriba
CLARK AUMEND.....Quaestor
MISS MARTHA DEAN.....Censor

The purpose of the newly organized Latin club is two-fold. One purpose is to create a bond of fellowship among Latin students. The other is to give the students more knowledge of the Roman people and their civilization than they can learn from their texts. In this way we hope to make Latin even more interesting than it has been.

Our first meeting was a big success, arousing much enthusiasm and desire for a club. The meeting was in the form of a party held at Miss Dean's home. The decorations, entertainment and refreshments were in keeping with Valentine Day. We played charades representing Latin words, made Latin Valentines, sang popular songs which had been translated into Latin, and enjoyed ourselves in general.

The second meeting was held at the home of Virginia Carlsten. This meeting was for installation of officers and initiation of members. The officers, in order to prove themselves worthy, told what the duties of their offices were in Roman times. After the "imperium" had been conferred upon them, the rest of the members were likewise summoned before the altar of Jupiter and given messages from the Delphian oracle which contained orders to be deciphered and followed. Upon completion of the task each member signed the Constitution, written in Latin in the form of an old Roman scroll.

As the club was organized rather late in the year, we have no definite outline to follow now, but next year we expect to have a unified program. —M. E. S. '32

"SKINNER'S DRESS SUIT"

PRESENTED BY

MASK AND SANDAL DRAMATIC CLUB

CAST OF CHARACTERS

Tommy	Junior Shurlow
Mr. McLaughlin	Robert DeGroff
Mr. Perkins	Richard Hathaway
Mr. Briggs	Howard Winzeler
"Honey" Rutherford	Constance Phillips
Skinner	Kenneth Leidigh
Mrs. McLaughlin	Wauneta Scott
Olivia	Betty Lewis
Mrs. Colby	Charlene Wonsetler
Mr. Willard Jackson	Walter Harrold
Mrs. Jackson, his wife	Billy Knapp

Friday, April 17, the Mask and Sandal club, under the very able direction of W. F. Haugher presented its annual play, which for this year was "Skinner's Dress Suit." The cast was composed mostly of juniors. It presented the play splendidly in spite of the fact that the majority had not had much previous experience. We look forward to an even more successful year next year.

Kenneth Leidigh, playing the part of Skinner, gave a successful presentation of the stingy young clerk who through his love for Honey, a stenographer, played by Constance Phillips, becomes a spendthrift and invests in a dress suit as well as in several other expensive articles of clothing. Skinner is always trying to get up enough courage to ask for a raise, but when he finally does, he is refused. Feeling ashamed to tell "Honey", he tells her he has secured the raise. This gets him into a set of complications from which he has a hard time to extract himself.

Howard Winzeler, playing the part of Mr. Briggs, is an agent for the firm of McLaughlin & Perkins. He portrays the self-conceited, snappy business man. He also is in love with Honey, but she does not care for him. Mr. Briggs fails to get a large contract from Mr. Willard Jackson who is played by Walter Harrold. He loses his job and Skinner and Honey attempt to get the contract. Finally they succeed. Robert DeGroff, under the role of Mr. McLaughlin, and Richard Hathaway, as Perkins, his partner, both gave a splendid rendition of their parts. Wauneta Scott, as Mrs. McLaughlin, played her part well. Betty Lewis, as Olivia, a young society girl, and Charlene Wonsetler, as Mrs. Colby, also gave good renditions. Billy Knapp as Mrs. Jackson showed us that she knows how to obtain her own way from the men and also that she can "giggle." Junior Shurlow who played the part of Tommy, the office boy, was a typical example of office boys.

Both Kenneth Leidigh and Constance Phillips were well able to take the leads and they succeeded quite well.

Between acts Anne Schuck and Kenneth Long rendered some songs which were greatly enjoyed by the audience. Both are old favorites and we were glad to hear them sing again.

The Dramatic club quartette, consisting of Wanda Patten, Wauneta Scott, Marie Phillips, and Marvel Fast, gave some songs between acts. Miss McKinney presided at the piano. Robrock's Rhythm Kings gave a fifteen minute program prior to the first act.

An audience of six hundred applauded enthusiastically at the clever lines and action of the cast which performed like veterans.

Mask and Sandal, to show its appreciation of the lecture course given gratis to the school children by the P. T. A., assumed the deficit incurred and presented the P. T. A. with a check for one hundred dollars.

THE FRESHMAN RECEPTION

On Friday evening, September 26, the freshmen and upper classmen met in the auditorium for the annual first party of the year. All freshmen, new upper classmen, and the new teachers wore bright green hair ribbons, ties, and large white bibs under their chins. (You have no idea how flattering this was to some). When the freshmen entered the stage from the wings, a few of our most dignified seniors were kind enough to help them find chairs. But for some mysterious reason the freshmen did not choose to sit still like little ladies and gentlemen should.

After the initiation had been completed, a courteous welcome was given to the freshmen by the senior president, Lee Newcomer. Lee gave several timely suggestions which should benefit the upper classmen as well as the freshmen. Wanda Weaver, the freshman president, gave a very appropriate response.

From the auditorium we all departed to the gym which had been transferred into a beautiful summer garden. The low-hung ceiling was interwoven with autumn boughs and flowers. From these, tiny Japanese parasols and colored lanterns were suspended. Robrock's Rhythm Kings furnished music for the happy revellers. Refreshments of iced cider and ginger bread topped with whipped cream were served throughout the evening. The new teachers, freshmen, and other new students have entirely forgiven us for all the pranks played on them, and I am sure will long remember the happy hours spent at the Freshman Reception.

NEW YEAR'S DANCE

The third annual New Year's dance given by the Student Council was a big success. As this is one of the biggest affairs of the year, the Council made great preparations for the occasion. The gym was beautifully decorated in red and green, with balloons of all colors hanging from the ceiling. Colored lights, placed in each corner, heightened the effect.

A crowd of about two hundred, consisting of students, alumni, and their friends, turned out. Light refreshments of punch and wafers were served. Music for the dancing was furnished by the Six Blue Diamonds.

About eleven-thirty the strains of the music died out. Everyone left saying he wished a new year came in every month.

ATHLETIC BANQUET

The Bryan foot ball team, who went through the season undefeated for the first time in the history of Bryan, was paid a splendid tribute at a banquet held in the gymnasium on January 5. A crowd of about three hundred gathered for the occasion, many being from neighboring towns. A special table was reserved for the Michigan Alumni.

Coach Harry Kipke, of the University of Michigan, was the principal speaker of the evening. He told many humorous stories, complimented the team on their successful season, and talked briefly on foot ball. Mr. A. L. Gebhard acted as toastmaster. He was very interesting in his humorous manner of presenting the speakers. The music for the program was furnished by the Girls Glee Club, which sang two selections. Miss McKinney also sang a solo, accompanied by Miss Winzeler. Coach Scales and Mr. Wyandt were both called on, and each gave a brief talk. Mr. Wyandt presented the rewards, and Mr. H. E. Huffman gave each of the players a gold foot ball, purchased by the business men of Bryan.

The gym was beautifully decorated for the affair in the purple and gold colors, with a model golden bear at one end, to typify the Bryan teams. The banquet was prepared by the Home Economics Department and served by members of the upper classes. The color scheme was further carried out in the food, special purple and gold cakes being served.

The banquet was a big success and it is hoped that a similar affair can be held every year.

GIRL RESERVE PARTY

GIVEN IN HONOR OF HI-Y

On Wednesday, March eighteenth, the Girl Reserves gave a party for the Hi-Y boys in the gym. It is needless to say a large crowd turned out—everyone was there, knowing that a wonderful time was in store for him. A banquet was served at six-thirty. The tables were decorated in green, in honor of St. Patrick's day. After the banquet several games were played. Farmer-in-the-Dell seemed to be the most popular. Buck Ames was the farmer and he chose Middy Oberlin to be his wife. Norm Carroll was the nurse-maid.

About eight o'clock there was an imperative call for music. Robrock and his Rhythm Kings kindly acquiesced. The floor was filled as long as the music continued. About ten o'clock the melodious strains of "Home Sweet Home" were heard, and everyone departed, saying that he had had an enjoyable evening.

Mrs. Newcomer called Stubby down to the office the other day. "What's the matter, Russell? Somebody called today and said you were in an accident and wouldn't be in school today."

"Ha! Ha!" answered our Stubby. "The joke's on him. He wasn't supposed to call 'till tomorrow."

R. Stuller — You weren't at school today, were you?

Walter H.—No, I slept in my own room today.

Hardy—Would you marry an idiot for the sake of his money?

M. Gleason—Oh, this is so sudden!

Would-be-suicide—Don't rescue me, I want to die!

Happy Howey — Well, you'll have to postpone it. I want a life-saving medal!

Margueretta—Is my face dirty, or is my imagination?

Wanda Patton—Your face isn't; I don't know about your imagination.

Irene McCord—You may not believe it, but I said "no" to several men this summer.

Doris Lyons—Oh, I don't doubt it. What were they selling?

Lois Slagle—What's an arsenal?

Audrey Link—Don't ask me. I don't know a thing about music.

How to Use Your Diploma to the Best Advantage

I Use it for backing sheet on your typewriter.

II Have it made into a lampshade. More fun watching people try to read it.

III Cut it into little irregular pieces. Makes a wonderful puzzle for the kid brother.

IV Put it under the tablecloth at the place where your coffee cup usually stands.

V Crease it down the middle, fold back each corner towards the center, double it together, fold back each wing—and you have a wonderful air glider.

VI If abroad, draw a picture of George Washington in one corner and pass it off as a hundred dollar bill.

VII Frame it and lay it carefully face downward in the bottom of your trunk.

Mr. Haugher—I understand that your wife thought of taking up law before she married you.

Mr. Wagner—Yes, that's true. Now, however, she's content to lay it down.

M. Rector—You must think I'm as big a fool as I look.

Chester—Well, if you aren't you have a great deal to be thankful for.

Julliard—Do you know anything about flirting?

"Dad" C.—No. I thought I did but the girl I tried it on wants to marry me.

Coach S.—I want a hunting license; not a marriage license.

Robrock—Did you water the rubber plant?

Revah Love—Oh no. I thought it was waterproof.

Marg H.—And what did your poet do when you turned him down?

Kate H.—Oh, the poor dear threw himself in the waste basket.

Judge—You are accused of stealing a chicken. Anything to say?

E. Vincent—I just took it for a lark, sir.

Judge—No resemblance whatever. Ten days in the hoosegow!

Jo Kitchen—What makes Denver think he's a musician?

B. Gardner—Oh, I guess it's because he has drums in his ears.

Mr. Robrock was lost. He didn't know which way to go. Suddenly he saw an old man approaching. "Hi," he shouted, "do you know the way to Widdlecomb?"

"Nope," the old man said, and shook his head.

Our Science teacher drove on slowly and when he had gone about half a mile he heard loud shouts behind him. He stopped and looked back. The old man had been joined by another and they were waving him back. Slowly and painfully he backed his car down the narrow road.

"Well?" he remarked.

"This is my brother, Bill," said the old man, "he don't know, neither."

It was a thrilling story that Jim Wilhelm had to tell. "I had lost all hope," he said, "as I sank for the third time my past life rose up before me in a series of grim, realistic pictures."

A murmur of sympathy rolled from the lips of the listeners, but just as he was preparing to resume, Karrol said, "And did you happen to notice a picture of me lending you five dollars in the autumn of 1929?"

Marvel—Dick proposed four times before I accepted him.

H. Mick—Indeed! And who were the other three girls?

Miss Goeller entered a grocer's shop and asked for some good cheese. The grocer showed her some but it did not please her, as she wanted the cheese particularly "lively." He showed her the remainder of his stock but still she was not satisfied. It must be still more "lively." At last the grocer, losing patience, called sarcastically to his assistant: "John, unchain number seven and let it walk in."

"Now you're done for," he said, as he clicked the handcuffs around her wrists.

"Oh, please, please don't." she pleaded.

"Don't what?"

"Don't end your sentence with a preposition," implored the English teacher.

Mr. Wagner—What would you do if a tiger got into the kitchen with your wife?

Mr. Robrock—I wouldn't do anything. I'd just let him get out the best way he could.

Rex M. had just got a job in a grocery store and among the first instructions he received was this: "If you don't happen to have what a customer wants, suggest something as nearly like it as possible."

Soon a woman came into the store and asked Rex: "Have you any fresh green stuff today?"

"No, Ma'am," answered Rex, "but we have some nice blueing."

Junior—How long can a person live without brains?

Forest—I don't know. How old are you?

Irene L.—Would you believe it, it's ten o'clock already.

Irene L.—Would you call me a liar for five minutes?

Billy B—I would if I had time!

And then began to run.
"I cannot stop," he gaily cried;
"I am so full of fun."

Billy B.—Maybe you had a better teacher than what I got.

Rosalind—So you've seen Daddy, darling. Did he behave like a lamb?

Lyle B. (grimly)—Absolutely! Every time I spoke he said, "Bah!"

Soph—Dad, you're a lucky man.

Dad—How's that?

Soph—You won't have to buy me any school books this year. I'm taking all of last year's work over again.

Junior Partner (to stenographer)—Are you doing anything on Sunday evening, Miss Hayes?

Kathryn (hopefully)—Not a thing.

Junior Partner—Then try to be at the office earlier on Monday morning, will you?

"Well, Mrs. Johnson," a colored physician announced after taking her husband's temperature, "Ah has knocked the fever outen him."

"Sho 'nuff," was the excited reply. "Am he gwine git well, den?"

"No'm" answered the doctor. "Dey's no hope fo' him, but you has the satisfaction of knowin' dat he died cured."

Doctor—Nonsense, sir. Do calm yourself. You are not strong enough for that yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett wanted to take an airplane ride but they didn't have any money. They talked to the pilot and he said that he would take them up for a free ride, if they would promise not to scream or make any commotion. They agreed so he took them up into the air. He put the ship through tail-spins, nose dives and many other dangerous things. When they reached the ground, the aviator said, "Well, you win. How did you enjoy your ride?"

"Oh, I enjoyed it," replied Mr. Everett, "but I almost screamed when my wife fell out."
